Handbook for Trustees of Front Line Defenders

This handbook is issued to Trustees on the 13 December 2013. This handbook may be updated from time to time and will be reviewed every two years at least. The Chair will send any revised version of the Trustees Handbook to all Trustees as soon as practicable after revisions have been incorporated. Trustees should check with the Executive Director that they are reading the most recent version of the Handbook at any given time.

Role of the Board

The role of the Board is to:

a. ensure compliance with the objects, purposes and values of the organisation, and with its governing document, the Trust Deed (Appendix 1);
b. set or approve policies, plans and budgets to achieve those objectives, and monitor performance against them;
c. ensure the solvency, financial strength and good performance of the organisation;
d. ensure that the organisation complies with all relevant laws, regulations and requirements of its regulators;
e. deal with the appointment (and if necessary the dismissal) of the organisation's chief executive;
f. set and maintain a framework of delegation and internal control; and

g. agree or ratify all policies and decisions on matters which might create significant risk to the organisation, financial or otherwise.

Statement of Duties of Trustees

The Board must ensure that the organisation’s vision, mission and values (Appendix 2) and activities remain true to its objects.

Trustees are bound by an overriding duty, individually and as a Board, to act reasonably at all times in the interests of the organisation and of its present and future beneficiaries.

All Trustees are equally responsible in law for the Board’s actions and decisions, and have equal status as Trustees.

Each Trustee shall be given the documents specified at Appendix 3 to assist them in understanding their duties as Trustees. A trustee should seek any additional information needed to clarify or better understand the Trustee role.

Each and every Trustee must act personally, and not as the representative of any group or organisation; this applies regardless of how that person was nominated, elected or selected to become a Trustee.

Individual Trustees must not act on their own on behalf of the Board, or on the business of the organisation, without proper authority from the Board.

Trustees are not directly involved in decisions which have been properly delegated to staff but hold staff to account through the Executive Director.
Letter to be signed by Trustees

This letter (template in Appendix 4) confirms Trustees are aware of their responsibilities:

The terms-of-reference include obligations to:

a. know and support the mission of the organisation;
b. uphold the values and objectives of the organisation;
c. give adequate time and energy to the duties of being a Trustee;
d. prepare for meetings in advance;
e. maintain confidentiality;
f. offer informed and impartial guidance;
g. fulfill fiduciary and statutory duties;
h. act with integrity, and avoid or declare personal conflicts of interest;
i. participate in committees and special events;
j. support the Executive Director;
k. take part in resource development;
l. promote the organisation in the community;
m. comply with the principles of the Dochas Code of Governance;
p. confirm understanding that the Chair runs the Board and sets the agenda which is strategic and takes account of members’ issues.

Role of the Chair

The Chair is responsible for the running of the Board and for the performance appraisal of the Executive Director on behalf of the Board.

The Chair should ensure that the members of the Board receive accurate, timely and clear information, in particular about the organisation's performance, to enable the Board to take sound decisions, monitor effectively and provide advice to promote the success of the organisation.

The Chair should enable effective communication with stakeholders and ensure that the Board upholds the highest standards of integrity.

The Chair should manage the Board to ensure that sufficient time is allowed for discussion of complex or contentious issues. Where appropriate, the Chair should arrange for informal meetings beforehand to enable thorough preparation for the Board discussion. It is particularly important that Trustees have sufficient time to consider critical issues and are not faced with unrealistic deadlines for decision-making.

The Chair should encourage active engagement by all the members of the Board, ensure that Board members focus on the strategic direction of the organisation and avoid becoming involved in day-to-day operational decisions and matters.

The role of the Chair should include, as a minimum, to ensure:

a. the efficient conduct of business at the organisation’s Board and general meetings;
b. that the organisation’s business is efficiently and accountably conducted between Board meetings;
c. that the organisation complies generally with the Dochas Code (annexed as Appendix x);
d. that the appraisal and remuneration of the organisation’s Executive Director is conducted in accordance with the Dochas Code;
e. that the employment of the Executive Director complies with employment legislation and good practice; and
f. that the appraisal of the Board of Trustees performance is conducted in accordance with the Dochas Code.

Role of the Executive Director

The Executive Director is responsible for the running of the organisation. The Executive Director has responsibility for maintaining a clear division of responsibilities. She is the effective link between Board and staff, informing and implementing the strategic decisions of the Board. Trustees are not directly involved in decisions which have been properly delegated to staff but hold staff to account through the Executive Director.

The Executive Director will report to the Board on an annual basis regarding legal and regulatory compliance.

Role of the Treasurer

The Treasurer is responsible for maintaining an overview of the organisation's financial procedures and financial health. The Treasurer will chair the Audit Committee and will sign the report of the External Auditors.

Code of Conduct

Trustees must have a good understanding of, and be sympathetic with, the aims and objects of the organisation and act in accordance with the governing document at all times.

Trustees must act and make decisions in the best interests of the organisation, and its present and future beneficiaries.

Trustees should do their best to avoid conflicts of interest, and where they do find that they have a conflict, they should declare that fact and not take part in any relevant decision-making, in accordance with the conflict of interest policy.

Trustees must play an active role in Board and sub-committee meetings, having spent due time reading and digesting Board papers in preparation for the meeting. A minimum attendance at meetings should be specified to ensure that best practice in governance is reached and maintained.

Trustees are jointly and severally liable for their decisions, therefore decisions should be taken together, as a team, recorded accurately in the minutes, and communicated to staff, beneficiaries and funders in a unified manner.

Trustees are accountable to a range of interested stakeholders for their actions and as such decision-making and governance issues should be as transparent as possible, except for when confidentiality is required.

Any information of a confidential nature must remain so outside the confines of the Board Meeting.

Conflicts of Interest

Trustees should identify and promptly declare any actual or potential conflicts of interest affecting them.

Where a material conflict of interest arises at a Board meeting, the Trustee concerned should not vote on the matter or participate in discussions. She or he should also offer to withdraw from the meeting, and the other Trustees should decide if this is required.

Gifts & Hospitality

Trustees should declare all personal gifts received or material hospitality of a value greater than €300 each accepted while on the organisation’s business, or from people or organisations connected with the organisation; such declarations should be recorded in Board minutes or in a register kept for that purpose.

Where Trustees accept gifts exceeding the materiality threshold they should contribute such gifts or their monetary value to the organisation’s cause. Such contributions and their origin should be recorded in the Board minutes or register.

Trustees should under no circumstances accept any gifts or hospitality where this could be seen as being likely to influence the decisions of the Board.

Audit Committee

The Board will establish an audit committee of three Trustees, chaired by the Treasurer. The Board should satisfy itself that at least one member of the audit committee has recent and relevant financial experience. The Chair of the Board will not be an audit committee member.

The main role and responsibilities of the audit committee include:

a. to monitor the integrity of the financial statements of the organisation, and any formal announcements relating to the organisation’s financial performance, reviewing significant financial reporting judgements contained in them;

b. to review the organisation’s internal financial controls and to review the organisation’s internal control and risk management systems;

c. to monitor and review the effectiveness of the organisation’s internal audit function;

d. to make recommendations to the Board, for it to put to the members for their approval in general meeting, in relation to the appointment, re-appointment and removal of the external auditor and to approve the remuneration and terms of engagement of the external auditor;

e. to review and monitor the external auditor’s independence and objectivity and the effectiveness of the audit process, taking into consideration relevant Irish professional and regulatory requirements;

A separate section of the audited accounts should describe the work of the committee in discharging those responsibilities.

The audit committee will review arrangements by which staff of the organisation may, in confidence, raise concerns about possible improprieties in matters of financial reporting or other matters. The audit committee’s objective will be to ensure that arrangements are in place for the proportionate and independent investigation of such matters and for appropriate follow-up action.

The audit committee will meet at least three times per year, normally in conjunction with meetings of the Board of Trustees.

The audit committee should monitor and review the effectiveness of the internal audit activities. Where there is no internal audit function, the audit committee should consider annually whether there is a need for an internal audit function.

The audit committee should have primary responsibility for making a recommendation on the appointment, reappointment and removal of the external auditors. If the Board does not accept the audit committee’s recommendation, it should include in a report of the Board and in any papers recommending appointment or re-appointment, a statement from the audit committee explaining the recommendation and should set out reasons why the Board has taken a different position.

There should be a statement available to stakeholders how, if the auditor provides non-audit services, auditor objectivity and independence is safeguarded.

Board Self-Assessment

The Board should ensure that at least every two years, it sets aside time to reflect on its own performance and functioning as a team. The results of these appraisals should be used to make necessary changes and improvements, to inform the creation of appropriate training programmes, and to guide trustee renewal and recruitment.

Sincerely,
Appendix 5: International Advisory Council (Terms of Reference)

The International Advisory Council was created to meet two inter-related challenges. Front Line receives some questioning from funders and others about the international diversity of our governance structures. At the same time as we have added non-Irish based members to the Board it has become more difficult to find suitable dates for Board meetings and to ensure attendance at Board meetings.

The Board of Trustees therefore agreed in September 2011 to create a new body, to be named the International Advisory Council (IAC), which would meet once per year together with members of the Board of Trustees. The main purpose is to give international input on Strategy. The IAC will also contribute ideas to be considered in the strategic planning process.

The Board of Trustees retains its existing legal responsibilities for the management of the organization. One of the Board meetings will coincide with an IAC meeting. All members of the Board of Trustees would automatically be members of the International Advisory Council.

The IAC does not have a specific legal status in the Trust Deed. The current Trust Deed provides discretion for the Board of Trustees to establish such a body as a means of getting the best advice on the strategic direction of the organisation. Clause 9b of the Trust Deed on Powers of Trustees specifies that Trustees may, "if and when they shall think fit employ and pay out of the Trust Fund any person or persons to do any act or acts... although they or some or one of them could have done the act or those acts."

Criteria for membership of the IAC
- international credibility, ideally to have individuals from each of the world regions not already represented who could provide strategic input to the work of Front Line; at all times there should be at least one person from the 5 regions;
- assistance with fund-raising;
- former Trustees.

Standing Orders
a) The International Advisory Council shall be convened by the Board of Trustees one time per year, normally in conjunction with a Board of Trustees meeting.

b) Members of the IAC will be appointed by the Board of Trustees for a three year term, renewable once.

c) Each meeting of the IAC shall be chaired by a member of the Board of Trustees.

d) The agenda and preparation of the IAC shall be the responsibility of the Board of Trustees.

e) Any member of the IAC may request in advance that an item be added to the agenda.

f) All documents for the meeting of the IAC will be circulated at least one week in advance of the meeting.

g) Minutes of meetings of the IAC will be kept under the responsibility of the Executive Director and will be circulated after each meeting.

h) Given the advisory nature of the IAC there is no provision for voting or decision making.
