cypher
/'sɪfər/
The dictionary definition of cypher is ‘a secret or disguised way of writing’. In many ways, this is the essence of comics storytelling – the image, rather than the word, is a disguise for many words, that can convey meaning, emotion, and can re/frame an entire narrative.

Rap and hip hop culture has taken the word and ascribed a new meaning: ‘an informal gathering of rappers, beatboxers and/or breakdancers in a circle, in order to jam musically together.’ This, too, we find relevant to this project, in that we are bringing together artists and HRDs in freestyle collaboration of activism and art with the aim of informing, elevating and inspiring.

For us, this captures the spirit of why we are working in comics and guides how we facilitate the process of creative production.

The human rights defenders in this edition are all activists who are facing sanction, punishment and persecution for taking action to defend their communities’ rights. The mere fact of challenging the core of power by not sitting and abiding whatever the government insists on, especially when that policy can have devastating consequences, is what human rights defenders are all about, and why they are feared by ‘democratic’ and ‘authoritarian’ leaders alike.

At the heart of the global human rights movement is the notion that the ruled have the ability to deny the rulers absolute power or the ability to dictate terms of existence. When organized into states, citizens further are guaranteed not only certain protections, but also rights that are not meant to be words on paper, but lived experiences.

It is our hope that these stories leave the reader with inspiration, with hope and with outrage, and provoke the reader to learn more about these HRDs and their struggles. Cypher is about generating solidarity through storytelling – solidarity is the lifeforce of the human rights movement, the struggles for justice and accountability, and what sustains HRDs in times of darkness. Thank you for reading, learning and hopefully, doing.
That is the name which the artist of our 2nd story put as their credit. In this edition, the artists of all four stories work under synonyms or preferred to be credited as anonymous. Stories about Human Rights violations from Italy, India and Nicaragua have in common that people speaking up have to be cautious in one way or the other for their well-being. This is unacceptable. Yet it also points out that there are artists willing to step back from receiving well-deserved credit in order to bring attention to human rights defenders at risk and under threat. I salute them for their courage to do so. No regular cowards here.

September 2020
The space for dissent and peaceful expression in India is fast shrinking. Since the ‘BJP-led’ government came into power, there has been a steady erosion of protection and safeguards for ethnic or religious minorities, Dalit and indigenous groups, and those seeking to assert their rights peacefully against State intrusion. Laws and policies are enacted to further marginalize the economic poor and minorities. Peaceful human rights work is met with violent reprisals, legal, police persecution and malicious media attacks and labelling.

While human rights defenders and protesters have united in solidarity across ethnic, religious and class lines, the government continues its campaign to demonize minorities, students, indigenous rights activists, and to target their cultural and religious expressions and identities. It has initiated efforts to try to make them ‘lesser’ citizens in the country.

The two stories presented here demonstrate the lengths to which the Indian government under Modi’s leadership to silence critics and remove any challenges to the nationalist discourse.

The use of the First Information Report (FIR) by the police as a kind of ‘blank check’ to arrest and charge HRDs is a new tactic of using otherwise legal procedures in ways they were not intended and marks a dangerous new development for civic space in India.

In December 2019, the Indian Parliament passed the Citizenship Amendment Act (CAA). It amended the Citizenship Act of 1955 by providing access to Indian citizenship for immigrants who fled religious persecution from neighbouring countries of Pakistan, Bangladesh and Afghanistan. This list of religious minorities in these countries included Hindus, Sikhs, Budhists, Jains, Parsis and Christians, and excluded Muslims as an overt act of using religion as a criterion for citizenship.

Following the passing of this act, the government also announced the preparation of the National Register of Indian Citizens (NRIC), to identify persons of ‘doubtful citizenship’ throughout India. A similar exercise in Assam, called the National Register of Citizens (NRC), to verify the citizenship status of residents resulted in the exclusion of close to 2 million persons, putting them at risk of statelessness. No remedy has been provided to them yet, despite the passage of over a year.

The CAA–NRC package, hence in as many words a potential tool of ethnic cleansing, threatened that the Muslims citizens of India will likely be tagged as foreigners by declaring their documents insufficient. Detention centers were being built in various locations across the country. Non-Muslims similarly identified as non-citizens will have the option of taking advantage of the CAA to reclaim Indian citizenship.

This led to an uprise of protests across the country.
At the forefront of these protests were primarily students and women, from varying class, caste and religious backgrounds. In a country where women do not have easy access to public spaces, and often one has a voice based on the privilege she holds, the gathering of women in not so privileged localities was almost revolutionary. The voices and the support of students strengthened these protests, which in turn put them in the forefront of the backlash that followed.

Masked goons and state machineries attacked educational institutions such as Aligarh Muslim University, Jamia Millia Islamia, Jawaharlal Nehru University, and other universities across cities. Police lathi charged students or aided vigilante mobs to attack students and faculty, damaging property, and leaving them injured. Photos and videos of these attacks were circulated alleging that the students were rioting and being violent.

In the midst of this, in Shaheen Bagh, Delhi, the site of a peaceful sit-in protest primarily led by women, became the emblem of anti-CAA protests in India. These protests lasted 101 days and garnered a lot of support from citizens, artists and activists across Delhi and the rest of India. Similar protests led by women rose in other cities, and continued until the country went into lockdown in March 2020, due to COVID-19.
In the last week of February 2020, several parts of northeast Delhi witnessed communal violence. Predominantly Muslim neighbourhoods saw violence through rioting, arson, burglary and shooting. Mosques and shops were vandalised and around 53 people, including 36 Muslims, 17 Hindus, were reported dead.

These attacks were triggered after leaders of the BJP, including a central minister, instigated their supporters through hate speeches, on camera, leaving a trail of several video footages raising questions on role of the Delhi Police. Violent and heart-wrenching videos of rioters and police attacking civilians, leading to some of their deaths, were circulated. These videos became a sort of live documentation of the riots.

Ruling party politicians and their cronies openly called for violence against the sit-in protests, while the police stood beside them and seemed to render their support in silence.

“We have had enough of the attacks on Hinduism. We will not tolerate such attacks anymore. Hindus, come out; die or kill. The rest, we’ll see. If your blood does not boil even now, it is not blood, it is water!” Ragini Tiwari, self-styled Hindutva leader

“I’m saying this on behalf of all of you. We will walk away peacefully until Trump is here. After that, if the roads are not vacated, we won’t even listen to you (the police).” Kapil Mishra, BJP Leader
Over hundreds of arrests have been made so far in connection with the anti-CAA protests.

A hoarding* in Hazratganj in Lucknow, Uttar Pradesh named and shamed people that participated in the protests, demanding them to pay a fine for the damages caused by rioting. These hoardings had photographs, names and addresses of the accused.

*Hoardings are walls of posters with the pictures of people who participated in protests - as if they are meant to be ‘wanted posters’.

First Information Reports (FIRs) had been filed against the anti-CAA protestors for inciting violence through hate speech. The reports alleged that the riots that rocked northeast Delhi were premeditated by certain protestors, and it incited people to take to the streets during US president Donald Trump’s visit.
Despite the lockdown, which led the now nationwide movement to dissipate, the arrests of protestors went on. In fact, the lockdown became a smokescreen for the police to track down and arrest protestors, since it left people isolated, vulnerable and with not enough access to legal aid. FIRs were filed against activists for “allegedly hatching a conspiracy to incite communal riots”.

The FIRs and summons suggest that the police systematically targeted members of one or more WhatsApp groups created by students and political/cultural activists who openly opposed CAA. The arrests followed the same modus operandi, i.e. to arrest the accused in one case, keep them for a few days for interrogation and once bail is granted, re-arrest them in Special Cell case.

Supreme court refuses to put a stay on CAA

Nearly all defenders arrested in relation to the CAA in Delhi have multiple fabricated FIRs filed against them. Each time a court grants bail/release orders – a fresh FIR is produced, ensuring that the defender remains in jail. The most insidious is the use of FIR 59/20 which includes charges under the UAPA, effectively preventing bail.
This FIR is based on a complaint by a police officer, relying on ‘secret information’ supplied by an informant and initially carried only bailable offences. Additional severe sections of the IPC and other laws, including UAPA, were added in this FIR to obstruct bail. There is no evidence produced by the police to substantiate such serious charges.

On 23 May 2020, the Delhi Police* arrested Devangana Kalita and Natasha Narwal, two members of the women’s collective Pinjra Tod, in connection with the Jafrabad protests. They were members of the WhatsApp group named Delhi Protest Support Group. The initial FIR contains charges under sections 186, 341 and 353 of the Indian Penal Code (IPC): obstructing a public servant in discharge of public functions, wrongful restraint, and assault or criminal force to deter a public servant from discharge of his duty. The following day, the Duty Metropolitan Magistrate granted bail after a special hearing at the Mandoli Jail. The judge noted that Kalita and Narwal were merely exercising their right to freedom of expression by protesting and did not engage in any form of violence. The judge, keeping in mind the COVID-19 pandemic, declined the police’s request to remand them.

*The Delhi Police comes under the purview of the Home Ministry, as opposed to Delhi state government.
Despite being granted bail, they were not released and on 26 May, the Delhi Special Crime Cell filed a further FIR 50/2020 against them. The new FIR contains allegations of serious offences including sections 302, 307 and 120B of the IPC: murder, attempt to murder and criminal conspiracy; offences under the Arms Act and offences under the Prevention of Destruction of Public Property Act. It is evident that despite failing to prove the earlier charges, the police intended to hold them in prison at any cost. There was a hearing held on 28 May inside the jail citing COVID-19, making it difficult for them in obtaining legal representation. Both Kalita and Narwal were sentenced to a further 14 days in Tihar jail.

Following this, on 29 May 2020, Kalita and Narwal have been charged by the police with the non-bailable Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA). This was the fourth FIR filed against Devangana Kalita.

On 1 September, the Delhi High Court granted bail to Devangana Kalita, as the police failed to share evidence of her alleged instigating speech. On 17 September, Natasha Narwal was granted bail citing that while she was present at an unlawful assembly, one does not see her indulging in or inciting violence. However, both Kalita and Narwal will not be released as they are in custody under UAPA.

Pinjra Tod (Break the Cage) is a collective of women students and alumni of colleges from across Delhi, India, that seeks to make regulations for hostel and paying guest (PG) accommodation less restrictive for women students. They aim to counter a perceived official narrative that women need to be protected. The main goals of Pinjra Tod are to end the imposition of curfews on women, to provide affordable accommodation for women, to regularise the situation for paying guests, and to obtain the formation of elected Internal Complaint Committees for prevention, prohibition and redress of sexual harassment in universities.
The Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA), is primarily meant to combat terror and condemn known terrorist organisations. In July 2019, the UAPA went through an amendment that authorises naming individuals as ‘terrorists’ even though they may have no affiliations to the terrorist organisations. Claiming that the National Investigative Agency (NIA) finds it difficult to deal with individuals involved in acts of terrorism under the existing act, the provision to name individuals as terrorists were introduced via the amendment. The Bill also authorises the Director-General of the National Investigation Agency (NIA) to allow either confiscation or attachment of property when a case is under investigation.

This amendment of the UAPA, enables the government, under the pretense of curbing terrorism, to in turn curb the right to dissent of an individual citizen. Additionally, it curtails personal liberty by detaining them for a long period without trial, in the pretext of investigating a ‘terror’ case. Not only is this detrimental to a democracy, but instead of preserving the dignity of an individual, the government violates it.

The multiple FIRs and arrests show that the centre’s only intent is to silence dissenters by putting them behind bars. This isn’t the first time the state has used UAPA or National Security Act (NSA) or accusations of sedition as an instrument of clout and power.

On the night of 13 September 2020, Umar Khalid, activist and member of United Against Hate, was arrested by the Delhi Police for his alleged role in the conspiracy of inciting the communal violence of February 2020.

“We won’t respond to violence with violence. We won’t respond to hate with hate. If they spread hate, we will respond to it with love. If they thrash us with lathis, we keep holding the tricolour. If they fire bullets, then we will hold the Constitution. If they jail us, we will go to jail singing, Saare Jahan Se Acha Hindustan Hamara.”

“Anthem of the People of Hindustan” written by poet Muhammad Iqbal. It became a symbol of resistance to the English rule of British-occupied India.
Petitions have been filed in the Supreme Court against UAPA, citing that the right to reputation is an intrinsic part of the fundamental right to life with dignity under Article 21 of the Constitution. Tagging an individual a "terrorist" before trial or due judicial processes does not comply with the procedure established by law.

All this while Hindutva leaders who have blatantly incited violence on camera, with proof, are protected unashamedly and continue to enjoy their freedom of thought, speech and action, while citizens become terrorists without evidence.

"...What is my fault? Is my fault that I believe this country is as much mine as it is yours? Our Hindustan, this beautiful country of ours, with people following so many religions, people speaking so many languages, so many kinds of people live here, but in the eyes of the law, in front of the constitution, we are all equal. Today, there is an attempt at trying to alter that. Today, there are trying to divide us. And those who speak against this divisive politics are getting threatened, thrown into jail, and their voices are being curbed. They are scaring us, but they are also scaring you. They are silencing us, putting us behind bars, but they also want to imprison you in their lies. They want to scare you also into silence. I just have one appeal before I end this message.

Do not be afraid! Raise your voice against injustice! Raise your voices to free those who are getting caught in false cases! Speak up against every oppression." Pre-recorded statement from Umar Khalid, released after his arrest.

The No-TAP Movement is a spontaneous citizen’s initiative organising peaceful marches and events since 2017, aimed at raising awareness about the environmental impacts of the TAP project (Trans Adriatic Pipeline). The government of Italy approved the project, sparking a movement that has been going strong for over three years.

The protests started in the town of Melendugno, located in the province of Lecce, where the terminal of the pipeline and the gas processing plants are being built. They have been staged primarily by residents of Melendugno, but also neighbouring towns which will be affected by the project.

Human rights defenders have been protesting as the construction of the pipeline threatens ancient olive farms, water sources, cultural heritage sites and the local coastline, in a region which heavily depends on agriculture and tourism. Moreover, the local population was not consulted when the project was being discussed and approved, the environmental impact was not adequately assessed, as the “Seveso Law” (a law related to the prevention of industrial accidents) was not applied, and the project is contrary to the provisions of the Paris Agreement about progressively ending fossil fuel production.

In January 2020, 25 HRDs who have been part of the protest movement were brought up on a variety of charges in a trial widely seen as an effort to shut down the environmental movement. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the trial was postponed, rescheduled to resume in September 2020.

Despite the attempt to criminalize the protests, the No-TAP Movement continues to struggle against the devastation of the environment and the impact the pipeline will have on communities.

Workers from Bonatti Company tried to get without notice into the agricultural land of the Philippi Plain. They had bulldozers and a group of farmers blocked them.

The Plain of Philippi has been declared UNESCO Site in 2016.

On 12 July 2018 eight people among city councilors, presidents of rural associations, the farmers themselves and the Salentine teacher Pati Luceri go to trial because of their opposition to Bonatti’s work.

Bonatti is the contractor on behalf of TAP for the construction of the Trans-Adriatic pipeline Greek section.

IN THE SUMMER OF 2016 THE MAGISTRATES OF THE MILAN PROSECUTOR’S OFFICE INDICT LUCA VOLONTÈ ON CHARGES OF CORRUPTION AND MONEY LAUNDERING.

IT MEANS THAT HE FULLFILLED HIS PUBLIC FUNCTION OF COUNCIL OF EUROPE MEMBER IN EXCHANGE FOR AZERBAIJANI MONEY. EIGHTEEN BANK TRANSFERS BETWEEN 2012 AND 2014 HAS BEEN PAID TO NOVAE TERRAE FROM THE BRITISH COMPANIES POLUX MANAGEMENT AND HILUX SERVICES THROUGH THE ESTONIAN DANSKE BANK.

THE MONEY LAUNDERING CHARGE STILL REMAINS.

ON 11 SEPTEMBER 2020, IN LECCE, ABOUT 70 NOTAP ACTIVISTS STOOD BEFORE THE JUDGE, CHARGED FOR HAVING IN VARIOUS WAYS: VIOLATED THE EXPULSIONS ORDERS, FOUND THEMSELVES IN THE AREA NEARBY THE TAP CONSTRUCTION SITE, SHAKEN THE FENCE AROUND TO THE SITE AND/OR SPRAY-PAINTED IT, RESISTING ARREST AND INSULTING A PUBLIC OFFICIAL.

HOWEVER DURING THE SAME DAY AND BEFORE THE SAME COURT, 19 PEOPLE AMONG THE TOP MANAGEMENT OF TAP AND REPRESENTATIVES OF THE COMPANIES IN CHARGE OF THE WORK ARE CALLED TO TRIAL.
The accusations include: total lack or illegality of the authorizations necessary to carry out works in areas subject to landscape, hydrogeological or significant public interest restrictions; contamination and deterioration of the aquifer and surrounding soil with hexavalent chromium, nickel, arsenic, nitrous nitrogen and manganese;

Illegitimate establishment of the so-called "red zone" for which the prefectural order does not in any way constitute authorization. TAP Italia is expressly sued, through the managers representing it, in relation to the crimes committed under its direction and supervision, and for the benefit and interest of TAP itself.

Jorge Maldonado grew up in rural Nicaragua, hoping to make a difference in his community. Nicaragua has known war and conflict, and in recent years, has seen a youth-led movement for political change, away from corruption and the dominance of Daniel Ortega and his Frente Sandinista de Liberación Nacional (FSLN, Sandinista National Liberation Front).

For a young man trying to serve his community, Jorge did not find many options and was content working within the structure of the local FSLN. However, when he decided to become independent and speak up about abuses and corruption he witnessed, he became targeted.

On 1 June, more than 700 Nicaraguan doctors who are members of 34 specialist associations, signed a joint statement in which they warned about the collapse in the public and private health systems. They denounced the saturation in hospitals, the lack of supplies and the infections suffered by many health professionals treating patients with COVID-19. Many doctors were fired, as the government took a position of denial about the pandemic and did not implement measures promoted by the World Health Organization.

In his village, Jorge took measures into his own hands, and has paid a price. Yet he persists, because he still wants the same thing he wanted when he was a boy – to help his community.

EVERYONE REPEATS THIS LIKE A MANTRA, REFERRING TO THE PANDEMIC AS SOMETHING NEW. TO ME, IT JUST FEELS LIKE YET ANOTHER MORTIFICATION OF THE REAL SICKNESS: MAN AND POLITICAL LIES.
I was born in Latin America, in a community marked by poverty, suffering and hunger.

Death reigned supreme, life was viewed in a negative light, and the common mantra went like this:

I was born poor and I will die poor.

Any hope that children and young people might have of getting an education was lost, blown away with the wind. My family’s financial situation forced me to start working when I was 14 years old, but in my mind I always had this one goal:

I need to study for a professional career and help my community to improve its way of life.
I graduated with a professional degree and my life gradually changed. I met people with big hearts and a different, really positive way of looking at things. Their support helped me become the person I am today.

I grew to feel strong and sure of being able to help my community face the problems it suffered from.
DIVIDED INTO SECTORS, MY COMMUNITY'S POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES LEANED TOWARDS THE LOCAL POLITICAL PARTY, MAKING THE THINK THIS WAS THE KEY TO HELPING THEM WITH NEW PROJECTS TO IMPROVE THEIR LIVES.

SO I BEGAN TO WORK, ORGANIZED BY PEOPLE FROM THIS POLITICAL PARTY, TOGETHER WITH MUNICIPAL OFFICIALS AND THE POLICE, YET ALWAYS MAINTAINING A SCIENTIFIC, COMMUNITY-BASED APPROACH AND REACHING OUT TO THE CHURCH AND MY OWN COMMUNITY FOR ASSISTANCE.

THAT YEAR I DID A LOT OF WORK ON BASIC NEEDS, WHICH BROUGHT GOOD, QUANTIFIABLE RESULTS.

I WAS NAMED COMMUNITY LEADER.
Then there was political upheaval in my country, and this is what triggered the party to take issue with me and what I was all about. The party was dedicated to organizing political protest, while my goal was to do community work, and this was one of the things that divided us.

Since I did not attend the protest and spent my free time with my community, there was no longer any rapport with the political leaders of the municipality and administrative department. While they marched in the streets, I continued to organize activities and assistance from my co-workers.
THE PARTY LEADERS SAID:

WE ARE THE ONLY ONES RESPONSIBLE FOR MANAGING PROJECTS. LEADERSHIP POSITIONS WILL BE FILLED BY OUR COMMUNITY STAFF.

THIS CANNOT BE. THE PROJECT IS NOT POLITICAL AND THE PEOPLE SHOULD CHOOSE THEIR LEADER.

I BECAME PRESIDENT AND OTHER MEMBERS OF THE COMMUNITY HAVE SERVED AS LEADERS TO THIS DAY.

THE PARTY THREATENED ME, SAYING:

IF YOU DON'T ACCEPT THAT THIS IS POLITICAL, WE'LL MAKE SURE THAT YOUR PROJECT IS SHUT DOWN.

I RESISTED, SO THEY BRANDIED ME AS A TROUBLEMAKER AND SAID:

AT ANY MOMENT, WE'LL HAVE YOU ARRESTED.

IT WAS THEN THAT I STOPPED COORDINATING MY ACTIVITIES WITH THEM. AS A RESULT, THEY DECLARED:

YOU NO LONGER BELONG TO THIS PARTY; YOU'RE ACTING AGAINST US. YOU'RE TRYING TO OVERTHROW US.
That’s when the harassment began, and it has been non-stop ever since. All of my activities are monitored and, above all, sabotaged with lies about me.

What, are you trying to steal this bridge?

That’s not true. We’re just trying to clean it.

Who’s paying you to do this? You’re coming with us.

They tried to damage my credibility with the community, but they didn’t get anywhere.

This is a violation; we won’t allow it.

The people took action and, this time, prevented my arrest.
AS A RESULT, WE BEGAN TO SEE CERTAIN SERVICES CUT OFF, INCLUDING HEALTHCARE (MY HOUSE AND THOSE OF MY RELATIVES WERE SKIPPED OVER DURING IMMUNIZATION CAMPAIGNS), AND DELIVERY OF DRINKING WATER. THESE SERVICES ARE SUPPOSED TO BELONG TO US BY OUR RIGHTS AS CITIZENS. WITH NO SUPPORT, WE WERE TOTALLY CONDEMNED, AND NOT ONLY BY THE PARTY.

COVID-19 ALSO BECAME AN ALLY IN THE PERSECUTION: IN THE VIRUS’ SEARCH FOR A PLACE TO SETTLE INTO, OUR COMMUNITY PRESENTED ITSELF AS THE PERFECT HOST.
As part of my community work, and together with the church pastors, I created a support team to explain the pandemic situation, share preventive measures and prevent the formation of infection hotspots.

Party officials waged a counter campaign.

Organizing events and bringing groups of people together, they have caused an increase in the number of infection hotspots.

Everything is fine.
IN MY EFFORTS TO SOUND THE ALARM AND PREVENT THE SPREAD OF THE VIRUS IN OUR COMMUNITIES, I GOT SICK. I'M ALMOST SURE IT WAS COVID-19, BUT WHEN I WENT TO THE CLINIC, THEY REFUSED TO TREAT ME:

NOTHING TO WORRY ABOUT, IT'S JUST A COLD.

THIS WAS THE DIAGNOSIS THAT THE HEALTH AUTHORITIES GAVE ALL OF US. NONE OF US WERE EVER TESTED. TAKING ALL OF THIS INTO ACCOUNT, WITH MY SYMPTOMS AND THE SERIOUS STATE OF MY HEALTH, I DECIDED TO GO INTO QUARANTINE, STAYING AT HOME WITH NO VISITORS AND COORDINATING EVERYTHING BY PHONE:

...A PERIPHERAL?

¡YES! WE HAVE A CAR WITH A LOUDSPEAKER

WE CONVENE OUR COMMUNITIES AND GO OVER THE PRECAUTIONS THEY NEED TO TAKE.
This provoked the anger of the municipal political leaders.

Who wasted no time in sending for me.
COVID-19 had already flattened my lungs.

They did the same to my house.

Both things desecrated my body and my fundamental rights.

The primordial right of every being to this day, I have been restricted in carrying out my work and helping those in need.

They have violated my right to be human.
